About the company

Incorporated in 1994, Fusion started microfinance operations in 2010 and became a registered NBFC-MFI in 2014. The company is primarily engaged in microfinance lending activities, providing financial services (and educating borrowers on financial literacy) to poor women in India who are organised as joint liability groups (JLGs). The company provides small-value collateral-free loans up to Rs. 75,000. In addition to the core business of providing microcredit, Fusion uses its distribution channels to provide other financial products and services to members, primarily the purchase of productivity-enhancing products such as mobile phones, bicycles, emergency loans, etc. As on March 31, 2020, Fusion had a presence in 283 districts across 18 states through 594 branches.
