Rationale

While arriving at the rating, ICRA has considered the consolidated financials (excluding insurance businesses) of Edelweiss Financial Services Limited (Edelweiss) and has taken a consolidated view of the credit profiles of Edelweiss and its subsidiaries, which are engaged in the asset management business and retail and wholesale lending, due to the common promoters and senior management team, shared brand name, and financial and operational linkages. ICRA expects financial, managerial and operational support from the Edelweiss Group to continue to be available to all key Group companies.

Material event

On May 29, 2024, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) had imposed business restrictions on two Edelweiss Group companies, namely ECL Finance Limited (ECLF) and Edelweiss Asset Reconstruction Company Limited (EARC). The order related to ECLF was on account of the observations about the wholesale business with respect to the company's financial position as of March 2023. The regulator directed ECLF to cease and desist from undertaking any structured transactions in respect of its wholesale exposures other than the repayment and closure of accounts in its normal course of business. The order related to EARC was on account of the observations in its operations and governance frameworks with respect to the financial position as of March 2023. The regulator directed EARC to cease and desist from the acquisition of financial assets, including security receipts (SRs), and reorganising existing SRs into senior and subordinate tranches. Both orders directed the Group to strengthen its assurance functions within the specified timelines. The business restrictions on ECLF and EARC would be reviewed after the rectification of the supervisory observations by the Group to the satisfaction of the regulator.

As per ECLF's press release dated May 29, 2024, the Group believes that these directions will not materially impact its strategy and business. Moreover, the reduction of the wholesale exposures will continue, as permitted, in the normal course of business. As per EARC's press release dated May 29, 2024, there will not be any material impact on the company's resolution and recovery efforts, which would continue normally, and it will take immediate steps to address the concerns raised by the RBI. Further, the company mentioned that its operations will be aligned with the regulatory expectations, wherever needed.

Impact of material event

The Edelweiss Group had witnessed a reduction in wholesale exposures in the past 2-3 years, supported by structured deals with investors. With the discontinuation of the wholesale business at ECLF (as announced in Q4 FY2024), the incremental impact of the order on the segment's profitability is expected to be remote. However, if the restrictions on ECLF continue for an extended period, the pace of decline in wholesale assets could be impacted even though the management had recently expressed their intent to drive a further decline in this book through collections.

For EARC, continued business restrictions would likely impact the ARC segment's growth plans and consequently its profitability. However, cash flows and income from the existing assets under management are not expected to be impacted. The management informed that they had addressed some of the regulator's observations in Q4 FY2024 and they intend to address the pending observations within the specified timelines. However, given the likely reputational impact, the timely resolution of the business restrictions on EARC and ECLF along with compliance with regulatory norms going forward, the impact on financial flexibility and developments pertaining to the proposed stake monetisation, the Group's fund-raising ability, and the rundown of its wholesale exposures in a timely manner will remain key monitorables.

Earlier, driven by the regulations on investments by regulated entities (RE) in the units of alternative investment funds (AIFs) with exposure to direct/indirect debtors of the RE, the Group had undertaken strategic arrangements for the impacted AIFs (in January 2024). Subsequently, it had also un-winded the AIF structures held in RE entities, wherein the underlying exposures continue to be with the Group. ICRA also notes the Group's publicly disclosed intent of monetising a 10-20% stake in Edelweiss Alternative Asset Advisors Limited (EAAA), which is expected to support it in augmenting its cushion for absorbing any impairment related to the residual risks residing in the balance sheet, liquidity generation and debt reduction. Additionally, given the appreciation of the investment in Nuvama Wealth Management Limited (Nuvama; stake valued at Rs. 2,300+ crore as of June 03, 2024) since its listing on September 26, 2023, the management's stated intention to divest the residual stake will also help pare down the debt, apart from residual fair valuation gains on the same, which shall offer some headroom to absorb losses, if required.

ICRA is cognisant that one of the erstwhile companies of the Edelweiss Group (Nuvama Clearing Services Limited or NCSL; erstwhile Edelweiss Custodial Services Limited) had received a Securities Appellate Tribunal (SAT) order in the matter of Anugrah Stock & Broking Ltd. in December 2023. ICRA will continue to monitor developments in this matter and their impact on the Group's financial profile, if any. NCSL has currently initiated an appeal against the SAT order in the Supreme Court.

The Group's liquidity position is currently adequate with on-balance sheet liquidity of about Rs. 2,500 crore in May 2024 against debt repayment obligations (principal + interest) of ~Rs. 4,566 crore between June 2024 and March 2025. The on-balance sheet liquidity and envisaged inflows from the loan book are expected to support the Group in its repayment obligations. Additionally, the planned monetisation of its stake in Nuvama and EAAA is expected to support the liquidity position.

Complexity level of the rated instrument

Instrument	Complexity Indicator
Non-convertible debenture programme	Simple

The Complexity Indicator refers to the ease with which the returns associated with the rated instrument could be estimated. It does not indicate the risk related to the timely payments on the instrument, which is rather indicated by the instrument's credit rating. It also does not indicate the complexity associated with analysing an entity's financial, business, industry risks or complexity related to the structural, transactional or legal aspects. Details on the complexity levels of the instruments are available on ICRA's website: Click Here
