Rationale

Pursuant to the execution of the business transfer agreement on July 15, 2026 between Darshita Aashiyana Private Limited (DAPL) and its sister concern, Dawntech Electronics Private Limited (DEPL), wherein the mobile e-commerce business of DAPL is proposed to be transferred to DEPL, the ratings for the bank facilities of DAPL of [ICRA]A / [ICRA]A2+ have been placed on Watch with Developing Implications. The transaction is expected to enhance operational efficiencies and create business synergies within the group. Further, its existing fund-based borrowings will be fully repaid prior to transfer of business from DAPL to DEPL, and its non-fund based limits will be transferred to DEPL.

ICRA notes that the transaction is subject to completion of various conditions precedent, including no objection certificates (NOCs) from the lenders, repayment/closure of the existing facilities and other regulatory/contractual approvals (including trade partner's consent). ICRA will resolve the rating watch post transfer of DAPL's assets and liabilities to DEPL and the resultant impact on DAPL's credit profile. ICRA will continue to monitor the developments and take appropriate rating action, as required.
